speaking on "The challenges of poverty on education".

Father Chris Riley has worked with marginalised youth for more than 30 years in a variety of roles including teacher, youth worker, probation officer, residential carer and principal. Father Riley has implemented innovative behaviour modification strategies to help young people deal with a history of trauma, abuse and neglect.

As CEO of Youth Off The Streets, Father Riley oversees the operation of over 20 programs that employ 150 people and involve more than 800 volunteers.

Youth Off The Streets has become one of the largest youth services in Australia, offering crisis accommodation, residential rehabilitation, clinical services and counselling, Outreach programs, drug and alcohol rehabilitation, specialist Aboriginal services, education and family support.

Father Riley believes there is no such thing as a "child born bad" but acknowledges that there are bad environments, circumstances and family situations that impact negatively on our young.
